DESIGNER

Marianne Westman

At first 22-year-old Marianne Westman was reluctant to embark on a design career with Rörstrand. Her dream had always been to have her own ceramics workshop in her home town of Falun. But her sketch of a flower – transformed into the decoration for Mon Amie, her debut and her masterpiece – heralded the shift to the new, brighter everyday life that people yearned for in the 1950s. Marianne was often quick to identify new trends and production methods. Her distinctive, light-hearted designs for household items in the 1950s and 1960s have earned her a lasting place in Swedish design history.

Mon Amie

Feldspar porcelain

Mon Amie, launched in 1952, updated and relaunched in 2008, is a shining example of a true Rörstrand classic. The sketch of a simple flower, created on a rainy midsummer in the late 1940s by Marianne Westman, became a cobalt blue blooming and lasting piece of art in many households. Mon Amie brings brightness to any occasion.

Care advice

Porcelain is just like clothes and other consumables – the better you take care of them, the longer they will keep

STEP 1 OF 5

Rörstrand's porcelain can be washed in the dishwasher. To keep your porcelain in good condition for longer, please use rinse aid to reduce the friction and to help avoid scratches on your plates when stacking them.

Always rinse your porcelain as soon as possible after a meal. Food residues that are left on porcelain can discolour sensitive decors. This is especially important to keep in mind when serving acidic food such as apple or lemon.
